DEPARTMENT OF FAMILY AND COMMUNITY MEDICINE
COLLEGE OF MEDICINE
SUMMER RESEARCH OPPORTUNITIES FOR UNDERGRADUATE WOMEN
APPLICATION DEADLINE: 03/01/2019

PROJECT TITLE: Impact of Primary Care Services in a Rural Kenyan Health Facility

Victoria Wulsin, MD, DrPH
Department of Family and Community Medicine, Professor University Health Services, Director of Preventive Medicine and Global Health
Occupational Safety and Health, Medical Review Officer
University of Cincinnati College of Medicine
Holmes Suite 4011
200 Albert Sabin Way
Cincinnati, Ohio 45267-0460
victoria.wulsin@uc.edu
513-584-4457 (office)
513-584-4481 (direct)

Project Description

SOTENI International has worked for 15 years to prevent and mitigate the effects of HIV/AIDS in Kenya and around the world. SOTENI has several years' data regarding the health facility it operates in rural western Kenya. These data are awaiting analysis and interpretation. The student-researcher would work with me (epidemiologist) directly as well as remotely with the clinical and other professional staff from the field. There may be an opportunity for conducting additional data gathering to augment current resources.